Episode two: When Toothless leaves

You wonder why this isn't called what lives under skin? It's because I decided against it. It would be pretty gruesome and I don't like writing that much gruesome content. I hope you enjoy this.

>Lightning crawled down the statue of thor and came exploding out his outstretched arm. hitting one of Berks houses. Mildew looked in anger at the people with him watching.

"That's what thor thinks of the statue! I told you what he wants and we haven't given it to him." He looked over at the house burning. "Until we rid this island of that night fury, thors fire will continue to rain down upon us!" Gobber looked out to the rain and lighting from the chiefs home. Toothless was laying on the ground with Hiccup, Said teen trying to keep him calm. Hiccup looked up at his father.

"You don't really think thor is angry because of toothless? Do you?" He asked him.

"of course I don't." He said to him. Banging started on the door.

"Open up stoic! We've come for the night fury!" It was mildew.

"But I'm afraid they do." He sighed. "Get toothless to a safe place. I'll try to reason with them." He started walking but Hiccup ran up to him, grabbing his arm.

"But-" Stoic turned and put a hand on his shoulder.

"Just go." He ordered. Gobber stroked toothless head,

"Safe travels, old friend." Hiccup pointed to the stairs and the two ran up, jumping out the window. Hiccup carefully looked at the entrance to his house. seeing a mob of people with mildew at the front. Hiccup looked down. Then he looked at toothless. he scratched the side of the dragons head.

"Don't worry bud, it's you and me." He said. they shared a look of silent agreement before running away from the house. Stoic and Gobber were standing outside in front of the mob.

"Give us the dragon stoic." Mildew demanded. "look at your people we've had enough!"

"Your too late." Stoic said with anger in his voice. "he's gone."

"Stoics already sent him off the island." Gobber added. almost on cue a bolt of lighting flew through the air again.

"Thor says otherwise. The dragon must still be on the island, find the nightfury!" He yelled to the Vikings behind him. They nodded in reply and turned to search. Hiccup had found Astrid and told her what was going on.

"We can hide toothless in the cove for now." She suggested.

"They'll just find him. No, we have to leave." He told her.

"We?" She asked.

"He can't make it on his own. and I wouldn't want him to. I'm going with him Astrid." He answered

"But you'll come back right?" She wondered.

"Yeah, eventually. When they all relies this didn't happen because of toothless." She sighed. She looked behind her as peoples loud voices were carried to them.

"You better go." She said. They looked at each other one last time before he ran to toothless, mounted and they took off. she watched them go with worry in her eyes. She turned just as mildew came walking up.

"Where's the boy? More importantly where's the dragon?" He ordered. Obviously in a rage because no one would give in.

"I don't know mildew." She said bravely. "But you got your wish. Hiccup and Toothless are gone."

"Na ba!" he said to her face. She cringed at his breath. "Find the nightfury!" He and the others left. She looked to the ground then back up to the sky. She hoped Hiccup wouldn't get into any trouble.

>Hiccup and toothless flew through the sky. He looked back as Berk got smaller.

"I'll be back dad. Don't worry." He said. "Come on toothless." Toothless flew higher until they were above the clouds and out of sight.
